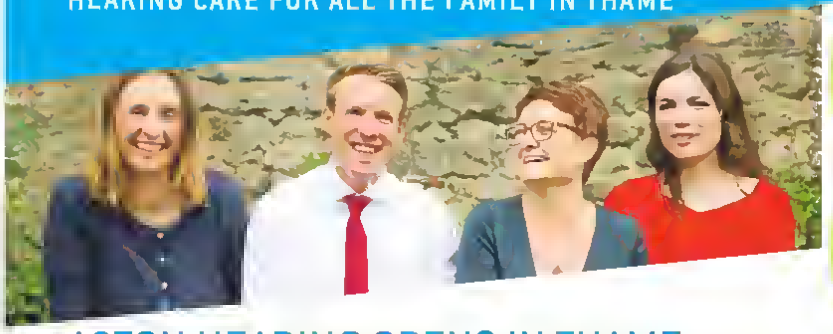
HEARING CARE FOR ALL THE FAMILY IN THAME

ASTON HEARING



ASTON HEARING OPENS IN THAME

Thame gains a new independent business, as Aston Hearing opens a new consulting practice in the market town in addition to the existing practice in Old Amersham

Aston Hearing is a family-run hearing centre which has been operating for 26 years. It currently employs five experienced audiologists working across both the practices. The company provides hearing care for all ages, involving the supplying and maintenance of hearing aids, fitting of specialist plugs, wax removal, hearing tests and tinnitus support.

The Thame team consists of audiologists Matthew Ball and Sereta Parker, Director Kate Collet Fenson and Alice Williams who is responsible for marketing. They will be joined on a Thursday by long-standing audiologist Karen Williams, who primarily works at the Amersham clinic.

Director Kate Collet Fenson states 'we feel that Thame is the perfect location for our second premises. Like Amersham, Thame is a picturesque market town with an active community. We hope that we can contribute to Thame's welcoming and lively atmosphere and get to know many of the people who live here.'

Aston Hearing can be found at 112 High Street and is now open for appointments or drop-ins. Please call 01844 335057 or email all@astonhearing.co.uk for more information.

HEARING TECHNOLOGY
THE NEW FRONTIER

By Matthew Ball

As the newest member of Aston Hearing, I'm looking forward to all the new opportunities that recent developments in technology will bring to the industry.

I have had previous experience in an NHS audiology department, working mainly in adult rehabilitation, as well as working for ReSound, a Danish hearing aid manufacturer, but whose UK base is in Kirthington, Oxfordshire. I have joined Aston Hearing as a full time audiologist and will be based in Thame. I am looking forward to working in a private independent practice at a newly established hearing centre.

Working for ReSound Hearing I have been very excited by the developments in hearing technology over recent years. ReSound's latest product is the ReSound LiNX^2. This discreet yet powerful device offers the very best hearing quality, allowing the wearer to feel safer, more confident and more in control. One wearer stated that 'I feel as if I'm back in the room' after trialing Resound Lmx^2 9.

ReSound has developed unique technology, making their hearing aids better than ever for ease of listening. They are intended to give greater speech understanding with less effort, meaning that the wearer will be less likely to feel exhausted after being in challenging listening environments.

ReSound's hearing instruments are designed to continually exchange data in order to adapt seamlessly to different sounds. The Spatial Sense formula is designed to emulate the way the outer ear channels sound to the inner ear, which helps the wearer to localise sound and gives a more natural sense of the surroundings. The Binaural Directionality feature helps the devices to focus on the most interesting sounds, meaning that speech can be heard even in the noisiest situations.

Another impressive feature of the devices is that they can be easily paired with a smartphone, and can be controlled through an app. In the digital age, we expect our appliances to work seamlessly together and to keep up with our busy lives. This mobile capacity means that your hearing instruments are no longer merely a medical aid, but a piece of technology that can adapt to and then improve your everyday life.

After witnessing the impressive new technology first-hand, I am looking forward to working directly with clients and seeing for myself how the latest hearing devices can improve people's lives. I hope that my experience in the industry will help me to deliver the best possible care to my clients.

If you have any questions about new products on the market or about audiology generally please email me at matthew@astonhearing.co.uk or drop in to the office on Tuesdays (from 8.30am – 1.30pm).

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR FLEX TRIALS

With so many impressive hearing aids on the market, it can be difficult for an independent hearing centre to know which devices are the best to prescribe to their clients. Aston Hearing are looking for volunteers to trial instruments from ReSound and Unitron to test the manufacturer's claims about their new products. Aston Hearing are confident that the latest technology from all the major suppliers offers wearers better than ever hearing capacities, but opinions from real-life users would be welcomed.

Trial periods usually cost £100, but Aston Hearing are offering free trials for Thame customers until 31st May. Simply quote THAMETRIAL16 when making an enquiry to redeem the complementary trial. This entitles the user to a four week trial of the latest hearing aid technology, inclusive of any fitting appointments or adjustments necessary. There will be an option at the end of the period to purchase the devices, but there is no obligation to do so.

Whether you have moderate or more severe hearing loss, have worn hearing aids for years or have never experienced amplification, Aston Hearing would like to know your opinion. To find out more information or to register your interest in a trial, please contact Aston Hearing Thame on 01844 396057 or email kate@astonhearing.co.uk.

HEARING

Only 1 in 10 people with mild to moderate hearing loss wear a hearing aid. Their main concerns are the visibility of the device, the inconvenience of changing batteries and potentially unnatural sound. Lyric, produced by manufacturer Phonak, has been developed to combat these issues.

Fitted deep inside the ear canal, close to the eardrum, Lyric is completely invisible and can be worn continuously for up to four months, without needing to change the battery or remove the device for daily activities such as showering or exercise. The placement of Lyric gives users the benefit of the outer ear's acoustic properties, making the sound natural and clear. 91% of users report being satisfied with the quality of the sound.

Aston Hearing are qualified to fit Lyric hearing devices, and their experienced audiologists can work with clients to get the most out of the instrument. The audiologist will first need to assess suitability, which is based on the nature and level of hearing loss, and the size, shape and length of the ear canal. Users can switch the device on and off and change the volume with their Soundlync adjustment tool, but audiologists will be on hand to refit or replace the instrument.

There are many psychological benefits to wearing Lyric hearing aids. Aston Hearing Director, Mel Webster, explains: 'when I wore other devices I was always aware of the stigma of wearing hearing aids and would often not wear them in social situations. Now they are in all the time I can go out and enjoy my maximum hearing potential without feeling self-conscious.'

Invisible hearing aids are often attractive to younger people with a less severe hearing loss, who may not have previously felt inclined to wear other styles of hearing devices. The benefits of Lyric hearing aids encourage people to engage with their hearing loss sooner, which helps them to remain socially engaged and greatly improves their quality of life.

Aston Hearing supplies Lyric on a subscription service, including a low cost trial period, which allows the user to assess the benefit that they would receive from Lyric before committing to a yearly contract. By subscribing to Lyric, the user is also purchasing a service, where they can expect regular care from their audiologist, regular hearing tests, no additional repair costs and free upgrades as and when new technology is released.

Duncan Collet-Fenson, Director of Aston Hearing and practising audiologist, states that 'Lyric has the potential to change the industry and we hope that it will help many people to find a hearing solution that works for them.'

If you would like to find out more about this exciting technology please call 01844 396057 or email kate@astonhearing.co.uk.

Rain fails to dampen royal visit in Oxford

By Loughlan Campbell

PRINCE William drew in crowds of hundreds lining the streets to catch a glimpse of His Royal Highness yesterday.

The Duke of Cambridge officially opened three different Oxford University buildings in the city centre.

Royal fans first greeted the Prince at Magdalen College in High Street to officially open its new £8 million Longwall Library at 10am before he headed to the university's £80m Weston Library in Broad Street at 11am.

He rounded off his Oxford trip to open the Blavatnik School of Government's eye-catching new £50m building in Walton Street.

In Broad Street Prince William stepped out of a blue Range Rover and spoke to schoolchildren from Pegasus Primary School in Blackbird Leys, before heading into Weston Library for a tour. When he returned he was greeted by a sea of British flags and cheers from around 250 people.

Prince William dismissed a security team ushering him back into his car and strolled up to meet his fans.

Richard Danby, from Bladon, 64, was the first to speak to him as rain began to pour.

He said: "It was fantastic that he took the time to come over to us. It's definitely something that I can't wait to tell my family and friends about. He asked me where we were from and if we used the library and I replied that we were his biggest and oldest fans."

In Weston Library Prince William was shown a 13th Century Bible that was owned by King Henry VIII, which he called 'amazing'.

He was then shown a key to the library that his great-grandfather King George VI broke in the lock during the building's first royal visit in October 1946.

Prince William laughed over the story and sounded very surprised Britain's last monarch had made the gaffe.

The grade II listed library underwent a £80m transformation opening up to the public again last March.

Prince William then gave a speech in Blackwell Hall before unveiling a plaque.

He said: "It is very good to be back at Oxford and thank you for your warm welcome.

I suspect today is the nosiest this library will ever be. It is humbling to know that the tradition of libraries here at Oxford goes back over 800 years."

John Sykes, of the Oxfordshire Building Trust, also spoke to him and said they shared a 'nice laugh'.

It was Prince William's first trip to Oxford since September 2014.

Sister pays tribute teenage brother after body found in Thames

THE sister of a boy found in the River Thames two days after he went missing while swimming with friends near Abingdon has said she hoped to wake up from the terrible nightmare.

Ellis Downes, 16, from Harwell, near Didcot, went missing on Saturday at 9pm between Abingdon and Culham.

Police confirmed at 11.13am today a body believed to be Ellis was recovered from the River Thames on Monday by divers at about 11pm.

Thames Valley Police has now referred itself to the police watchdog after coming under fire for their search effort.

His sister Alex Downes said on Facebook: "There are no words to explain how I'm feeling right now. I thought I would wake up and it would of just all been a terrible nightmare.

"My heart aches so badly it hurts, a massive part of it is missing, all I have now are the happy memories of the cheeky loveable handsome young man I was proud to call my brother and I will cherish those memories forever.

"Ellis I'm so sorry we didn't find you sooner but I hope you would be proud at me for doing everything I could to get you back, I was never ever going to give up on you.

I love you so much words are not enough, my beautiful angel."

The death is being treated as unexplained but not suspicious and is being passed to the coroner.

Police confirmed yesterday they have referred themselves to the Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC).

Assistant chief constable Nikki Ross said: "We are aware of the family and community concerns around our actions following this tragic incident and the referral was made this morning [Wednesday]."

Supt Rory Freeman, LPA Commander for the South and Vale said: "Our thoughts are with Ellis' family at this very difficult time."

Emergency services were called to the scene near The Burycroft off the A415 to a report a boy had got into difficulty while swimming and had not been seen since.

Police, firefighters and Environment Agency officers searched the river before being joined by divers.

Barton man sentenced to four months after crash

Dad jailed for biker's death

A 30-YEAR-OLD man from Oxford has been jailed for four months and banned from driving for causing the death of a 74 year-old motorcyclist in Headington.

Mahamud Abubaka of Pound Field Close, Barton was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on Tuesday for causing the death of Geoffrey Steel on September 16 2014 when he pulled out in front of the elderly rider.

Abubaka was driving his Vauxhall Zafira on an A40 slip road in Headington just before Middey and turned right into Marsh Lane, heading towards Oxford.

Abubaka pulled out in front of Mr Steele's BMW R1100 motorcycle and collided with him. Mr Steele, from Carterton, died of his injuries on October 19.

Judge Zoe Smith said: "[Mr Steele] was a loved father, grandfather, uncle and father in law and was 74 years of age.

"It is clear he was a man concerned with safety on the road. He was wearing a high visibility jacket and was riding within the speed limit.

"There was nothing that he did that in any way contributed to the collision."

Abubaka was sentenced to four months and he will serve half of that time in prison.

He has also been disqualified from driving for 18 months and will have to take an extended test to drive again.

By Alex Ballinger

The judge also charged Abubaka £1,500 in costs.

Defending, Nigel Daly told the court the dad of one was the sole breadwinner in his family.

Mr Daly said: "This is a solid family man whose main concern is his family.

"This is a family man who made a tragic mistake."

Abubaka was summonsed for the offence on March 27 last year and was charged on May 5, 2015.

He was found guilty after a three-day trial at Oxford Crown Court in April.

Judge Smith said Abubaka had not properly looked before pulling out at the junction.

She added: "[Mr Steele] was clearly a dynamic and active person, a caring man and those close to him find his loss unbearable."

The sentence was passed on to Abubaka, who moved to the UK in 2008 from Somalia, by a Somalian interpreter.

Consultation on plans to ban buses from busy Oxford shopping street

A CONSULTATION has launched on plans to fully pedestrianise a busy shopping street in Oxford city centre.

Queen Street is already blocked to cars, but the proposal would stop buses and taxis driving down it.

Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) began a consultation on Monday night, running until June 8.

The plans are being touted as a £440 million revamp and extension of Oxford's Westgate shopping centre, off Queen Street, reaches the half way mark.

OCC cabinet member for environment and economy, David Nimmo Smith, said: "Pedestrianising Queen Street has been the subject of debate for a long time.

"Now is the time for people to have their say."

Most bus stops were moved from Queen Street as part of the council's Transform Oxford project in 2009.

Under the plans, the Queen Street bus stop would be moved, other stops would be changed, new bus routes would be created serving the new Westgate Shopping Centre.

A new bus roundabout for buses to turn around would also be built at the junction of Worcester Street and New Road. Carfax taxi rank would be moved to High Street, and loading bays and disabled parking would be altered.

Fire at Oxford Business Park

AN investigation has been launched after 57 fire fighters were called to the scene of a significant fire at Oxford Business Park on the hottest day of the year so far in Cowley on Sunday.

Oxfordshire County Council Fire and Rescue Service received an emergency call at 2.49pm to reports of smoke coming from an office building at Unit 1300 John Smith Drive.

Crews from Rewley Road and Slade Park fire stations in Oxford were immediately dispatched to fight the developing fire.

They summoned assistance from fire fighters in Abingdon, Wallingford, Eynsham, Bicester and Witney in addition to colleagues from Buckinghamshire and Milton Keynes fire and rescue services to bring the fire under control.

Using hose reels, jets, breathing apparatus and an aerial ladder platform the firefighters managed to contain and extinguish the fire with 57 firefighters working at the scene at the fire's height.

Nobody was injured in the incident and the cause of the fire is now under investigation by the fire and rescue service's specialist fire investigators.

It is not thought at this time to be suspicious.

Witnesses take stand in Abingdon murder trial

By Alex Ballinger

TWO men accused of shooting 26-year-old Kerry Reeves in the face were seen brandishing a sawn-off shotgun the day before the attack, a jury heard on Tuesday.

Billy Johnson, 20, of Ripon Court in Corby, Northampton shire, and Charles Noble, 21, of Kempton Avenue in Ealing, London, both deny murdering Miss Reeves behind a block of flats in Thornhill Walk in November last year.

She died from her injuries at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital two days after being shot with a shotgun just after 9pm on November 3.

On the stand at Oxford Crown Court, Abingdon witness Daniel Rumley said he bought drugs off Johnson and Noble and saw them with the weapon 24 hours before Miss Reeves was shot.

Mr Rumley told the court he saw Johnson known as CJ and Noble, known as Dillon, outside Tesco in Thornhill Walk at around 7pm on November 2.

He said, "They were a little bit on edge. CJ went into his top and pulled something out a bit. He didn't pull it out fully.

"It looked like a pole or something.

Mr Rumley said he then saw Johnson and Noble at a flat in nearby Brampton Close at around 10pm that night, where Johnson was holding the gun while wearing surgical gloves.

He added, "There was a table where CJ was sat and that's where I saw the gun.

"CJ pulled it up. It was on the floor on a bag."

Mr Rumley also told the court Johnson and Noble were talking about a stabbing the week before when a friend of Miss Reeves, Craig Pitts, was attacked on October 27.

He said, "They said there was people coming after them on peds (mopeds). They thought it was Craig Pitts."

Paul Keleher QC, defending Johnson, accused Mr Rumley of making up the encounter.

Mr Keleher said, "I'm suggesting you're not telling the truth about a lot of things. This is one of them."

The defence for Noble, Ali Nasoem Bajwa QC, asked Mr Rumley if he suspected Miss Reeves would be shot the following day.

Mr Bajwa said, "You didn't dream that when you left the flat that night that CJ would use the gun to shoot someone?"

Mr Rumley replied, "No. I didn't. That's not the sort of thing that goes on."

Also taking to the stand on Tuesday was Sharon Ponting, whose home backs onto the garden where Miss Reeves was shot.

Mrs Ponting recalled hearing the bang that she thought was a firework.

She said, "It was a horrendous loud bang. It made me jump on my seat. My son went out to the balcony.

"He came straight back in and said there are two men outside shouting 'help, help, my friend is dying'."

The case continues.

Cash stolen

CUMNOR: Cash was stolen and a window smashed during a burglary in Cumnor Hill, Oxford, last Wednesday.

The incident happened between 8am and 2pm in which offenders forced entry into the home through the smashed window.

Anyone who saw someone acting suspiciously in the area or heard anything suspicious is asked to call police on 101.

Tumble drier fire

YARNTON: A tumble drier caught fire at a home in Merton Way, Yarnton, on Monday night.

Two fire engines from Oxfordshire County Council Fire and Rescue service based at Kidlington and Oxford attended the scene after being called at 9.56pm.

Crews arrived to a 'developing fire' in the kitchen. The house was found to be heavily smoke-logged. Fire fighters wearing breathing apparatus entered the house and brought the flames under control.

The occupants had been alerted to the fire when the power went off and a smoke alarm sounded.

Incident commander Ellis Bicknell said, "The incident could have been much worse, fortunately the occupants were awake and had working smoke alarms which alerted them."

Two men arrested after Cowley Road stabbing

By Loughlan Campbell

TWO men have been arrested after an 18 year-old was stabbed near Oxford's Cowley Road on Monday.

The victim was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital Headington in a life-threatening condition but was said to be in stable condition by Tuesday morning.

A 28-year-old man and 35-year-old man, both from Oxford, are in police custody.

One witness described the victim collapsing outside Sainsburys in Cowley Road at about 2.50pm. Police believe he was stabbed in James Street, off Cowley Road.

Superintendent Christian Bunn, LPA Commander for Oxford, said: "Firstly, I would like to reassure the community that we do not believe this was a random attack.

"It is a credit to our police officers who attended the scene that we made two arrests shortly after we were called to the offence.

"A thorough investigation is being carried out and such residents will see an increased police presence in the area in the coming days."

He urged anyone with information or any concerns to speak to officers.

Security guard at Sainsburys supermarket, Danny Boulahneche said: "I do not want to see this at all. Nobody wants to see somebody get stabbed.

"His friend was there and I told me he had been stabbed in the heart by a knife."

Mr Boulahneche added: "He was definitely just a teenager. He might have been coming home from school."

Police cordons were set up on Monday between Union Street, Princes Street and James Street following the assault.

A police helicopter was spotted hovering over the scene in Cowley Road shortly afterwards.

South Central Ambulance Service spokesman David Gallagher said: "We were called at 2.46pm to reports that an 18-year old male was seriously assaulted.

"We sent a rapid response vehicle and an ambulance. He was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital in serious life threatening condition.

Manager of nearby Truck Store record shop Carl Smithson, said: "I saw someone lying on the ground with a bunch of people around them by Sainsburys.

"I think it was a man on the floor."

Anyone who has any information about the incident is asked to call police on 101.

ELECTIONS: Stansfeld wins second PCC term

ANTHONY Stansfeld has been re-elected as the police and crime commissioner (PCC) for the Thames Valley following last Thursday's election.

The Conservative candidate polled 104,554 votes as a first preference – just shy of 40 per cent – before increasing his share to 54 per cent once the second preference votes were taken into account.

Labour's Laetisia Carter, the only candidate who could have overhauled Mr Stansfeld in the second round, was second collecting 138,084 votes in the first round. Their total votes after the second round were 202,396 and 172,717 respectively.

"I am delighted and very honoured to be re-elected as PCC for the Thames Valley and with twice the turnout as 2012," said Mr Stansfeld.

"Thames Valley is currently one of the top performing police forces in the country and I cannot foresee any massive change in direction. However hidden crimes such as crime sexual exploitation and domestic abuse will inevitably take up a great deal of time and resource."

John Howson came third for the Liberal Democrats while Lea Trainer was fourth for Ukip.

Around 430,000 votes were cast for a turnout of 25.8 per cent across the Thames Valley – double what was recorded in the first PCC elections in 2012.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. This company which specialises in repairing windows which are misted up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Maxen McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. Our service example. If your double glazing has misted up we can repair the glass in a fraction of the cost of a new window vs any type of frame and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just a hard sell, people matter, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps fine tune on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requested, leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Oxfordshire area from their local depots and manager James Miller agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a lively as naturally as portrait as Which? now recognise.

ELECTIONS: Labour gains in Oxford

OXFORD S political spectrum turned a deeper shade of red after Friday's city council election results, as Labour extended their hold on the council by gaining two seats

The council s Labour contingent took two seats off the Green Party to extend their majority on the council to 27 seats

Labour candidate and Oxford University PhD student Dan Iley Williamson beat Liberal Democrat candidate Andy McKay to gain the Holywell ward by 168 votes after Green councillor Sam Holbeck stepped down.

The Greens were then narrowly defeated in the fight for the Iffley Fields ward after Cllr Elise Benjamin was pipped to the post by Labour s Steve Curran by just 54 votes

Bob Price, Oxford City Council s leader (Labour) said after the results "What this shows to me is that the people of Oxford

By Loughlan Campbell

are not happy with the austerity cuts being made by the Tory Government and that they continue to back us to take Oxford forward"

This councillor for Hinksey Park paid tribute to newly elected councillors Dan Iley-Williamson and Stephen Curran

He said "Dan had a difficult ward but he worked very very hard, notably on social media to get his message across and the results show how well he did

Steve is well known through out his new ward and he worked very hard to attract votes"

Cllr Iley Wilhamson, 26, who is studying politics said "I m thrilled to be elected. It wan thought this was going to be a long shot for Labour so it was quite surprising to win the ward"

Turnout at the elections was up by nearly 16 per cent with 36 per cent of the electorate turning out across the city to vote on Thursday The turnout for the same seats in 2012 was at 29 37 per cent

Oxford s Green Party leader Craig Simmons held his St Mary s ward with a majority of 102 votes over Labour But he said the setback of losing two others is disappointing

The Greens had hoped to overtake Lib Dems as the main opposition on the council but fell short of the mark.

Cllr Simmons added, "We have done very well by picking up more votes in each of the wards Unfortunately that hasn t turned into seats"

The Liberal Democrats maintained their four seats that were up for election as Andrew Gant and Ruth Wilkinson held Summertown and Headington respectively and Tom Landell Mills and Angie Goff were elected to hold St Margaret's and Wolvercote respectively

Jean Fooks, Liberal Democrats leader on the council said: "It is very encouraging to maintain our seats and also raise our majorities in several areas We will continue to work very hard to hold Labour to account as the opposition

Independent candidate Mick Haines also held his seat in Marston beating Labour candidate Nick Walker by 314 votes

Oxford East MP Andrew Smith was on hand cheering his councillors to victory

He told the Guardian. These are very good results for Labour and show the hard work that they have been doing all year round serving the community

"I always hope for the best and I m delighted Oxford has once again put its faith in Labour"

ELECTIONS: West Oxon unchanged

By Alex Ballinger

THERE were some nervous faces dotted around the hall of Windrush Leisure Centre in Witney for West Oxfordshire District Council's election results on Thursday night.

But despite some close shaves and misplaced votes there were no significant changes and the Conservatives held their overwhelming majority on West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC).

Former leader of the council Barry Norton, who is not seeking re-election this year after he announced last month he would step down due to health concerns.

Sir Barry's North Leigh seat was held by the Conservatives on election night however with Harry St John taking up the vacant council seat.

A vote within the WODC Conservative group was held on Tuesday and James Mills will lead the council.

The nearest thing to an upset came when Labour's Witney East councillor Dan Enright, was told he had lost his seat to Conservative Suzanne Bartington by around 70 votes, before a pile of uncounted votes was discovered.

Cllr Enright, who was first elected to the council four years ago said: "I was concerned I'd lost the seat but they found another pile of votes.

"I'm absolutely delighted. It's a huge privilege to represent people in Witney.

"I think we do an okay job of holding the Conservatives to account. We're able to challenge them, particularly on cuts to services.

Labour holds only four seats on WODC, making them the joint opposition with Liberal Democrats who also hold four.

Cllr Enright picked up 997 votes from his ward while Suzanne Bartington was close behind with 919.

Also in Witney, incumbent Labour councillor for Witney Central Andrew Coles extended his lead over the Conservatives picking up 781 votes to Chris Holliday's 422.

In the 2012 district council election Cllr Coles won by only 63 votes, but this year extended his lead to 359.

Mr Holliday, who serves on Witney Town Council and will be Witney's new mayor for 2016/17 said: "It was well fought and against a very worthy councillor. Andrew is very popular in his ward. I knew that in my heart of hearts.

"He's a good councillor. You don't mind losing to a good councillor."

The Liberal Democrats also held their two contested seats including the Charlbury and Finstock ward with a landslide victory.

Incumbent Liz Leffman picked up a staggering 944 votes compared with Conservative candidate Paul Honey's 318.

The Conservative Party still dominated election day-holding 12 of the 17 council seats available.

Toby Morris held his Witney North seat for the party picking up 442 votes to Labour's 222.

Cllr Morris said: "I've been serving the town council for seven years. It's really nice to now serve the community. I love in the district.

"I'm really looking forward to the challenges ahead."

Chadlington and Churchill the first result announced in the early hours of Friday morning, was held by Conservative Neil Owen who won by a 337 vote margin.

Cllr Owen the district councillor for David Cameron's Dean home said: "When he's dealing with the world I make sure his buns are getting emptied.

"I feel elated. I'm delighted for the party.

Labour also held their Chipping Norton seat with Cllr Geoff Saul scooping 1,068 votes to the Conservatives' 856.

The political makeup of the council remains unchanged, 41 Conservatives councillors, four Labour and four Liberal Democrats.

ELECTIONS: Business as usual for Cherwell

IT is business as usual at Cherwell District Council after the Conservative party retained control following an all out election.

New boundary changes meant all seats were up for election – usually Cherwell council elections are held for a third of the seats in three out of four years.

Former Liberal Democrat Nick Cotter now an Independent won a seat back on the council after losing to Conservative councillor in 2011.

While Jason Slaymaker won his first council seat for the Conservative party.

Both took to social media to thank voters.

Mr Slaymaker said: "Really pleased to have been elected onto Cherwell District Council representing Bicester North & Caversfield Ward. Thank you to everyone who voted!"

Mr Cotter said: "A very BIG Thank you for electing me again on to Cherwell District Council. Cllr Nick Cotter."

However the results were a shock for prominent councillor Norman Bolster – a member of the council's executive – who lost his seat to Mr Cotter.

Council leader Barry Wood was re-elected to represent the Fringford & Heyfords Ward, but only secured a two year term after getting the least votes of the three winning candidates.

The Liberal Democrat Party lost its only seat and no longer have any representation on the council.

By Jayne Smith

Boundary changes mean 48 councillors will now represent 16 new district council wards – previously 58 councillors covered 28 wards.

Overall Cherwell saw a 34.48 per cent turnout.

Sue Smith, Cherwell council's returning officer, said: "The make-up of the council was redesigned to address significant differences in the previous structure which meant some councillors were representing up to ten per cent more residents than others.

"Under the new make up every ward will now be represented by three councillors and by 2020 each member will represent 2 530 voters."

Following last Thursday's election, the Conservatives kept majority control of the council with 36 of the 48 seats.

There was no change for the Labour party who retained eight seats and the Independents won two seats.

Previously the Conservatives had majority control with 40 of the 50 available seats with the remaining councillors comprising eight Labour members, one Independent candidate and one Liberal Democrat.

There are no elections scheduled for Cherwell District Council next year due to the all out elections taking place at Oxfordshire County Council, where every seat will be available.

Music festival success

THE sixth annual Thame Music in the Park has been hailed a success after raising more than £7,000.

Almost 3,000 people turned out for the event in Elms Park, Thame, on Sunday May 1.

A raft of dancers, musicians and a school band performed at the festival. Among them were folk, rock n' roll bands and performers including Ben Corby and Billy Watman.

The Air and Army Cadets provided logistical support while a Girl Guides tea tent and tombola stall made more than £900 which is going towards a memorial bench for Megan Biddle. Former Lord Williams School pupil Megan, of Thame, died in 2015 aged 18 after accidently taking too many migraine tablets.

In a statement Thame Town Council said it would like to congratulate the committee and the many volunteers whose hard work has generated yet another successful event in the Thame calendar.

"We look forward to 2017 when it is hoped that improvements to Elms Park will have been implemented following on from the public consultation late last year."

Profits from the event will be invested back into the park and surrounding area.

Plans for improvements will be considered by town councillors on May 24.

'£20m needed' to keep children safe

By Alex Ballinger

A TEAM of Oxfordshire organisations that handles cases of sexual exploitation and missing children needs a £20 million redesign to deal with an increase in cases and staff shortages, Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for children has said.

The county's Multi Agency Safeguarding Hub (MASH) is made up of 10 groups including Oxfordshire County Council (OCC), Thames Valley Police and Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust.

• Cllr Melinda Tilley

It launched in Oxfordshire in September 2014 to improve child protection but Melinda Tilley, OCC's cabinet member for children, education and families, said around £20m would be needed to improve it.

Cllr Tilley told the Guardian: "We need around £20m and more social workers but we haven't got that so we'll have to work differently.

"We need to try to get more family support workers who aren't as qualified as social workers.

"We need to get communities involved and they are coming forward."

A report by OCC's deputy director of children's social care Lucy Butler, published ahead of a scrutiny committee meeting today, said an increase in the number of children helped by the service means changes need to be made.

It added that a shortage of social workers meant just four months after the MASH was set up there was a backlog of cases.

The report advised that there should be improvements made such as introducing services in the community.

The MASH currently operates from Cowley Police Station in Oxford.

In one year before the MASH was launched the report said there were 10,903 contacts of concern raised by people about children in Oxfordshire.

This rose to 20,062 from April 2015 to March 2015, an increase of seven per cent.

Ms Butler said: "We're now at the stage where we believe the service needs to be significantly re-shaped and we are already working with other agencies to make this to make this happen.

"Our priority remains keeping the most vulnerable children safe and we have a strong track record on this.

"Our handling of child sexual exploitation matters also remains among the best in the country."

When asked why the county had seen an increase demand for child services Cllr Tilley said: "We don't know. It's across the country but we think its because we're engaging more and that it's not a bad thing."

£2m Bicester school expansion underway

By Jayne Smith

A £2 MILLION project to expand a Bicester school by a third before September is underway

Pupils at Longfields Primary School watched on as a crane lifted six new modular classrooms into place.

It comes after demand for places at the school in Longfields Bicester increased by 33 per cent

All the new classrooms will be ready for the start of the new school year in September

The move will allow a permanent kitchen to be created so hot meals can be provided for children and also free up rooms in the existing building which are currently used for storage

Carillion design and construction director Josh Lavis said "Modular construction was chosen for this particular project in order to minimise disruption to the school by significantly reducing the build time on site whilst providing a robust solution to the school's requirement equal to that of a conventional build process of brick and block construction"

The modules are six sided structures constructed off site and were set on site using a crane

They can then be placed in different layout configurations including side by side, end to end or stacked

Oxfordshire County Council's School Organisation and Planning Manager Roy Leach said "The new classrooms will be a great addition for the school and provide much needed extra school places for the growing local community

"I'm sure staff and pupils are looking forward to using them for the first time"

'Vindictive cow' message to mum of dead teenager investigated by officers

By Loughlan Campbell

A MALICIOUS voicemail to a mum whose son died in the care of a mental health trust from someone claiming to be an employee labelling her a "vindictive cow" is being investigated by police.

The mum of 18-year-old Connor Sparrowhawk, Sarah Ryan, received the message on April 29 and said her "blood chilled" when she heard the message.

Connor, who had learning disabilities and autism, drowned in a bath after an epileptic fit three years ago at Southern Health NHS Foundation Trust's run Slade House, Headington.

Since his death Dr Ryan has been campaigning for those responsible for his death to be held to account.

The message said: "Hello, hi, this is a message for Dr Sara Ryan. um I've been seeing on the media about your son, your poor son who died in the care of Southern Health.

"I work for Southern Health and I feel awful that you have lost him but I do think you are being very vindictive. I think you are a vindictive cow."

"On TV all the time slating the NHS Southern Health. It takes a while to make changes anywhere and I think you want some attention, but you are vindictive and you are unpleasant and you are a nasty cow."

The voicemail was sent after a Care Quality Commission (CQC) report. The previous day found the trust is still not doing enough to protect vulnerable people in its care.

Southern Health has been under scrutiny after a jury inquest at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court ruled neglect and serious failings in care by the trust contributed to the death of Connor, nicknamed 'Laughing Boy'.

On her blog Dr Ryan said: "My blood chilled 20 seconds or so into the message left on my phone at work.

"The call is vitriolic, nasty and beyond inappropriate. But it is simply part of a set of improbably inappropriate, nasty and worse responses we've endured since 'LB died'."

Thames Valley Police spokesman Lucy Dillon said: "As a result of a pre-planned meeting with Dr Ryan, TVP was made aware of a malicious telephone message made to her on 29 April. This has now been recorded as a report of malicious communication and is currently under investigation."

A spokesperson for Southern Health added: "We have been aware of the phone message through social media and the content is deeply concerning. The trust cannot condone such behaviour and we take matters like this extremely seriously."

Police and firefighters team up for safety pilot

FIREFIGHTERS and police officers have teamed up in a pilot a new project to ease West Oxfordshire residents' safety fears this month.

Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service and Thames Valley Police are carrying out home safety checks and giving safety and crime prevention advice in Carterton and surrounding areas.

Police Community Support Officers will visit homes in spot fire related risks and give safety advice on the spot instead of referring residents to the fire service. While firefighters will visit homes to look for signs of people being vulnerable to crime and offer advice.

Dave Etheridge, chief fire officer at the Fire and Rescue Service said: "This is an excellent example of offering the people of Oxfordshire an improved service."

Chief Superintendent Andy Boyd from the neighbourhood policing and partnerships at Thames Valley Police said: "I am looking forward to seeing the results from this and continuing our work supporting the fire service."

The pilot project will run for six months.

‘Loving son’ may have clipped kerb

• Sheldon Shellz Thomas, 30

By Loughlan Campbell

SHELDON Thomas could have been trying to overtake another car when he lost control at the wheel, Oxfordshire Coroner’s Court heard on Tuesday.

An inquest into Mr Thomas’ death opened and was adjourned until a later date, earmarked for October 5 at the same court in New Road, Oxford.

Mr Thomas, 30, from Oxford died after crashing into a tree in Parks Road at about 5am on Monday, May 2, while driving a black Volkswagen Golf.

Oxfordshire coroner Darren Salter said: “The car may have tried overtaking a car, clipped the kerb, and lost control, striking a tree.”

In addition to this, Mr Salter gave a preliminary cause of death as multiple injuries.

He died at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford later that day.

A passenger in his twenties also sustained serious injuries, not thought to be life threatening, and remains in hospital.

The family of Mr Thomas, known as Shellz, paid tribute to their loving son last Thursday.

Their statement said: “He was a loving son and is sadly missed.

“The family wish to express their thanks to all the family and friends that have shown their support during this sad time.”

They asked for privacy and time to grieve and urged anyone with information about the collision to call police.

Flowers and messages have been left by the railings of Oxford University Parks near the crash scene.

Friends lit candles and drove a convey past the site last Monday.

They also paid tribute on social media.

Friend Lauren Compton wrote on Facebook: “We looked amazing and I know it made many people happy that made lots of noise for Shellz, he’d be blushing.

“Night Shellz hope you liked our scene tonight.”

Niamh Ailee Har said on Facebook: “Sleep tight out soldier Shellz.

“Was always you I’d ring and give an ear ache when in this state! I love you so much and I want you to always know this please! The pain in my heart will never equal the love in my heart for you.

“Shine bright you beautiful angel. Light up the skies for us.”

Thames Valley Police investigations manager Dick Thorpe, from the serious collision investigation unit, said: “We would like to speak to anyone who witnessed this collision or anyone who saw the vehicle travelling prior to the collision who has not already spoken to officers.

“They may have vital information to help our investigation into the incident which led to this man’s death.

Anyone that has any information about the collision can contact the police’s 24-hour enquiry centre on 101 quoting URN 189 2/5.

Culvert approved

OXFORD: A plan to build a flood drain channel under the railway line near South Hinksey and raise parts of the track were approved by Oxford City Council last Tuesday.

The council’s west area planning committee approved Network Rail’s plan at a meeting at Oxford Town Hall.

The plans are set to help reduce the flooding impact into nearby homes and prevent the tracks from being closed due to flooding.

Parking restrictions

CHOLSEY: Controversial parking restrictions have been approved for the village of Cholsey near Wallingford.

Oxfordshire County Council approved the restrictions at a meeting last Thursday that will introduce double yellow lines, waiting restrictions and paid parking to sections of the village centre.

The measures aim to cut congestion and improve traffic flow.

Paper mill sale

OXFORD: The historic Wolvercote paper mill site off Mill Road has been put up for sale by Oxford University.

The 16.5-acre site has outline planning permission for up to 190 homes, a GP surgery, office buildings and a community centre.

The planning application was approved last December by Oxford City Council.

Investigation launched after Oxford hostel fire

FIREFIGHTERS were called to a fire at a hostel in Oxford’s Paradise Street last Wednesday.

Staff and guests had safely evacuated the building after the fire service was called at around 4.43pm.

Three fire engines were sent to the scene and crews entered the building and using hose reels extinguished the blaze.

Smoke was then cleared from the building using ventilation fans to prevent further damage.

Fire investigation officers are now looking into the cause of the fire, which is unknown at this time.

Sunshine Cat Rescue is approaching its fourth "birthday"!

THE Charity has been incredibly successful since its inception with the result that there's always lots of work to be done! We can always make use of more helpers and would welcome some new faces on the team. Specifically at the moment we really need more Home Visitors (particularly to cover the Bicester area) Fosterers a Fundraiser a Treasurer and a Publicity Officer.

Also, we need helpers who can regularly empty the food donation bins in various locations around the area.

Please call Lou on 01993 831 279 for more information about the available roles.

Kevin's STORY. Kevin is a five year old tabby who came into our care last November a lady reported seeing him around living in an old chicken house at the bottom of the garden and contacted Sunshine Cat Rescue. On checking him over, it was found that he had injuries to his leg and neck from a collar in which his leg had been caught. The collar was cutting the skin almost to the bone.

Kevin was taken to the vets several times at one point he collapsed and needed lots of tests to see what had caused this to happen. The blood test results showed that the red blood cell level had dropped dangerously low.

After lots of care and attention, Kevin has recovered really well, but still has to visit the vet twice a week for his bandages to be changed and blood tests. He is a lovely cat, despite everything he is going through.

At the end of January Kevin's vet bill was £702.01 and is still rising so any donations to help cover this cost would be very welcome.

If left un-neutered, this beautiful little kitten could produce more than 100 off-spring.

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

ENTERTAINMENT & LISTINGS

Round-up of Oxfordshire festivals

SUMMER is fast approaching, which means one thing for music fans: festival season is nearly upon us

About 12 main festivals will sweep the county starting next week and entertaining thousands until the end of August.

And kicking off this year's run of musical fiestas next Friday will be Wood Festival at Braziers Park near Wallingford.

Up next will be much anticipated Common People in Oxford's South Parks.

The makers of Bestival are bringing Oxford's own to the city after a Portsmouth remake last year proved a hit.

Chart-toppers such as Duran Duran, Katy B and Craig David will all be headlining at the festival being held over Bank Holiday weekend from Saturday May 28 to Sunday May 29.

And they will be complimented by talent closer to home. Oxford City Singers are making an appearance.

Wattington will host the Beacon Festival next in June, celebrating musicians who are not household names, and tribute groups including No! The Rolling Stones and the UK Foo Fighters Tribute.

The joint-longest festival of the summer will be Nocturne Live at Blenheim Palace.

By James Richings

Running for four days towards the end of June, musicians such as Jack Savoretti, The Corrs, composer Ennio Morricone, the Royal Philharmonic Concert Orchestra and Elton John will all perform in Woodstock.

The first of three in July will see the Henley Festival host a range of concerts and performances to entertain.

Comedians such as Reginald D Hunter, Nina Conti and Al Murray, alongside musicians Elvis Costello, Shirley Bassey and Will Young will join many more. And clashing with Henley for a couple of days will be Cornbury Festival in Chipping Norton.

Cornbury boasts big name musicians at the Great Tew Estate with Jamie Cullum, Seal, James Morrison and Gabrielle Aplin in the line-up.

A week later and for the first time in its history, Oxfordshire's own Truck Festival in Steventon will host three days rather than its usual two following consecutive years of success.

Catfish and the Bottlemen will headline on the Friday while Manic Street Preachers will take to the stage on Saturday and Kodaline revels in the spotlight on Sunday.

And if your energy is not frazzled by August, there are plenty of options.

Five festivals make it the busiest month to festival.

Towersey Festival in Thame is the last main music event of the summer another four day fiesta.

Bands and musicians such as Nizlopi, Midge Ure, The Tom Robinson Band, Kate Rusby are on the line-up cards among many more.

Sisters Megan and Rebecca Lovell from rock band Larkin Poe performed at Cornbury last year

September Girls on tour

IRISH alternative rock band September Girls will be at Oxford's O2 Academy next Wednesday May 18.

The five piece from Dublin is touring following the release of their second album, 'Age of Indignation'.

Paula Cullen, Caoimhe Derwin, Lauren Kerchner, Jessie Ward and Sarah Grimes banded together to create September Girls in 2011.

Vocalist and lead bassist Paula Cullen told the Guardian: "We really weren't very aspirational at the start as we just wanted to play a few gigs and release a 7 inch single, anything after that was a bonus.

"And I'm not sure that the term 'big break' applies so much to a band like us, but a gig we were offered in Rome in 2012 paid us enough that we were able to record our first album.

"We are a bit louder and harsher live than our recorded output might suggest.

"We usually get quite immersed in the music as the show goes on and there will be a lot of shouting and hair flying about."

Before the September Girls made their name, Paula, Caoimhe, Lauren, Jessie and a drummer called Michael Winder were in a group called Tahiah Does The Hula from 2008 to 2011.

But after Michael announced he was moving to England, the group called it quits and September Girls formed with the addition of Sarah on drums.

The group has been making a name for itself since, and Paula said she believes the band are on the verge of something special.

"This will be our first time playing in Oxford," she added.

"I've been to Oxford myself before though and it's a really pretty place so we are definitely looking forward to it.

"When it's apparent the audience is getting into it, it's easier for us to let go and it becomes more of a shared experience as opposed to being on us and them situation."

Doors open for the Cowley Road gig at 7pm and tickets cost £9.05.

Ballet for the Boyz

A BALLET troupe with a difference will be visiting Oxford's New Theatre on Friday, May 13.

All male group BalletBoyz arrives with their show 'Life'.

The dance company was formed in 2001 by former Royal Ballet dancers Michael Nunn and William Trevitt.

"We imagined a show called 'Life' a title that would be very open ended in terms of meaning, but would spark an idea in the minds of the choreographers," Michael said.

"They were both given the title and asked to use it in any way they wanted, and what you will see is the result of that spark."

William added: "There are predictable ways to create a dance for a group of 10 young men, but we were looking for something beyond the obvious. We have been delighted to find solutions to the problem that couldn't be more different".

Tickets cost from £15 to £29.40 and it starts at 7.30pm.

SPICED ROOTS RESTAURANT will be providing an authentic Caribbean dining experience within Cowley Road, Oxford. The planned opening date for the restaurant is scheduled for Thursday 26th May 2016. A special VIP event for family & friends. Following this on Friday the 27th May will be a Business to Business VIP opening. Saturday 28th May will the official VIP launch.

The restaurant will incorporate a traditional Caribbean style Rum Cocktail bar. The rum cocktails will be designed exclusively to compliment and enhance the food served within the restaurant.

The emphasis will be on providing a high quality dining experience showcasing the best of "everything" Caribbean. First class food and drinks set within an environment explicitly designed to recreate the opulent settings of the Caribbean islands and distinguishing Spiced roots, added to this will be the warm relaxed atmosphere the customer would associate and characterise with a Caribbean visit.

Spiced Roots have teamed with the UKs Rum ambassador Ian Burrell who has appeared on many TV shows and attends many exhibitions detailing the history of Rum and the food that is complimented by a specific Rum. A book style menu which includes the history of the food and the drink served will be available for all customers to read. This will be a unique feature of the restaurant.

We have employed the services of professional designers. The design reflects the luxury feel of the Caribbean. This gives us the opportunity in developing our strategy to provide the highest quality experience when visiting the restaurant.

"Our aim is to provide guests with a culinary tour of the Caribbean islands sharing the flavours and history of the different cultures that have influenced the cuisine of these islands".

THE RUM CLUB

Ian Burrell has enjoyed success as a hip hop artist, basketball player and TV personality and now Ian Burrell is addressing crowds as the world's only global ambassador for rum, and the man behind Rumfest, Europes first ever rum festival.

As global rum ambassador Ian travels the world, training, lecturing and promotion rum & cocktails and with over 25 years in the industry he is setting the pace for the promotion of the unique rum lifestyle globally.

The selection of cocktails Ian has created exclusively for Spiced Roots range from his take on timeless classics such as 'Planter's Punch' to modern innovative fusion creations like the 'Roots & Culture' and the Storm in a Tea Cup available only at Spiced Roots.

"Rum is so versatile that it works great with cocktails. I have had people who come and say they don't like rum but then when you ask them what they want to drink they say Mojito, which of course has rum in it"

John Metcalfe and company

• John Metcalfe

AN Oxford producer and musician used to working behind the scenes with big names in British music is stepping into the limelight with his own band at The Bullingdon

The John Metcalfe Band will be at the Cowley Road venue next Friday, May 20, to perform both original compositions and a few well known tracks John Metcalfe has worked on.

He has co-composed songs for artists and musicians such as Peter Gabriel, Blur and The Corrs.

He told the Guardian: "I live in Oxford so I've been to the Bullingdon loads of times for gigs and club nights but this is the first time I've played here so definitely looking forward to it – it should be a good night.

Originally from New Zealand, John made it onto the music scene when he first formed the Duke Quartet, a contemporary string quartet with Louisa Fuller (violin), Rick Koster (violin), John Metcalfe (viola) and Sophie Harris (cello).

By James Richings

The group went on to appear on Morrissey's debut album 'Viva Hate' in 1989 which peaked at number one in the UK music charts.

But he has fond memories of where it all began.

Moving to England, he took up the viola and joined his first band at school playing drums.

"I got into music after I was paid 2p by a primary schoolfor playing the first two bars of 'The Entertainer'.

"I've never looked back," John said.

The John Metcalfe Band will be at the Bullingdon from 7.30pm.

"In the band there is Daisy Palmer on drums who plays with Rae Morris and Vaults – she's got such an amazing feel," John said.

"Red Snapper's bassist Ali Friend also plays with Imagined Village, and if you want deep groove and loads of vibe then Ali's your man.

"And finally we've got Rosie Doonan (who has toured with Birdy) and she has a hellingly gorgeous voice.

"I love performing with these three – such a great atmosphere on stage."

Tickets cost £11 or £5.50 for concessions.

And John dealt out advice to aspiring musicians. "To make it, you must never give up."

"It's something you love doing, keep going.

"X factor and BGT make overnight success seem easy but you've got to do the hours, days and even years."

The Land Rover Discovery Sport

By Anthony Yates

EVERYBODY loves a Land Rover because they are in two simple words, 'brilliant machines'.

Right from the beginning in 1948 it has been the iconic symbol for a vehicle that can handle whatever task you put in its path.

They say everyone at some point in their life will be famous for five minutes – I say everyone at some point in their life will have either owned or at least had some sort of interaction with a Land Rover – and of course why not, because the Queen owns one.

The simple fact here is this – if it has a Land Rover badge then you can be certain that what you are looking at is at the heart of everything British.

POWER AND EFFICIENCY

The Discovery Sport was fitted with a 2.0L TD4 Diesel engine with 180bhp and 430Nm of Torque. I have spoken many times about this brilliant engine.

I can't fault it really because it just does everything you ask of it without any drama. Remember the Discovery Sport also weighs 1,834kg and still manages to return 40mpg.

ON THE ROAD

Just like its brothers and sisters it does on or off road brilliantly.

Land Rover has the ability to make a machine handle well no matter what the road surface is doing below.

DESIGN AND INTERIOR

Land Rover has done a good job making the Discovery Sport stand out in a crowd – many people who I met over the week I was testing the Sport told me that it was better looking than its big brother, the mighty Range Rover.

I would not argue with that truth be told. Of course as with all Land Rovers of today the inside is fit for a king with more luxuries than a penthouse suite at The Savoy.

TECHNOLOGY

Yes – it has lots. Land Rover does not do penny pinching. I could tell you all about it here, but you should see it for yourself.

PRICE

Base price (on-the-road) £34,200

Williams target podium in Spanish Grand Prix

By Adam Flinn

WILLIAMS Martini Racing will be hoping to build upon their improved showing at the last race in Russia when they compete in this weekend's Spanish Grand Prix.

Last time out Valtteri Bottas came home fourth with Felipe Massa chasing behind in fifth earning the team their biggest points haul of the season so far in the process. However the Grove-based team has lacked the speed to challenge the Mercedes and Ferrari cars so will be looking to close the gap in Sunday's race in Barcelona – a circuit all the drivers know well.

"Barcelona is probably the track I've driven the most in my life because all of the pre-season testing normally takes place there," said Bottas.

"I like the track and I like Barcelona as a city as well. It is a nice place to stay and the weather is always good around this time of the year.

"It is a nice event overall and there are plenty of fans, so it would be nice to have a good result there, especially because testing looked good for us there."

And Massa is optimistic of being able to challenge for a podium although continuing to score points is the main target.

He said: "Spain is always a track that most of the drivers know 100 per cent because we are always testing there in the winter. It is a circuit that a good car overall normally goes well because you have a little bit of everything – high speed corners and low speed corners.

"To be able to fight for a podium would be great – we know it won't be easy but we will try everything we can.

Following Sunday's race, the teams will remain behind in Spain for a two-day test where Williams development driver Alex Lynn will get his first run in an official Formula One session this year.

Lynn said: "A huge thank you to Williams Martini Racing for giving me this opportunity.

"With the testing restrictions it's an important chance for me to show what I can do but it is also important running for the team and I hope to help them to develop the FW38."

Saints cruise past Torbay

OXFORD SAINTS moved top of the Division II South West Conference following their mauling of Torbay Trojans 58-7 in Cornwall on Sunday.

The win meant that Oxford have secured three consecutive wins since their campaign started with the Saints previously picking up wins over Bristol Apache and the Cornish Sharks last month.

The Saints charged into a fast lead and began the second quarter with a touchdown to give them a 16-0 lead over the side from Devon.

Star running back James Walter then took control for Oxford, picking up the ball to score three touchdowns for the Saints in quick succession to give them a 37-0 lead at half-time. The highlight of the three was an interception on the 25 yard line from the Saints player before he then dartted on to score. Oxford did not let up in the second half and a long run from Tom Swift after a great catch on the turn led to another touchdown.

Andrew Day's side then stretched their points total past 50 through another touchdown from Tyson Blackstock and the Saints then went on to grab the two extra points for a 52-0 scoreline.

Tuch Bloomer then crossed the line once more before Torbay finally put some points on the board with a touchdown.

Smith admits frustrations after crashing in close of Le Mans race

BRADLEY SMITH's luck run out at Le Mans on Sunday after he fell off his bike with just eight laps to go.

The Oxford rider headed into the end of the first lap in 4th as he flew along the French track, dueling with Valentino Rossi.

He was riding in seventh as the race reached the halfway mark, however, not long afterwards he then fell at the fifth corner on Lap 20 in a "frustrating end" to his weekend.

Speaking after the race, he said: "It goes without saying that it's a frustrating end to the weekend, especially because it's clear to see that it was the best weekend that we've had so far this year."

Speaking after the race he said: "I am very disappointed but more for the team than myself because they have put in a lot of effort and it would have been nice to celebrate with a strong result."

The Monster Yamaha Tech 3 rider is now in 14th in the MotoGP World Championships on 29 points.

U's promoted after historic win

• Oxford United celebrate their promotion to League One (picture by Steve Daniels)

OXFORD United returned to League One for the first time since 2001 after a superb 3-0 win over Wycombe Wanderers at the Kassam Stadium.

A Chey Dunkley header, Chris Maguire penalty and later Callum O Dowda goal sealed the win for the U's in the second half.

It was a superb performance all-round from Michael Appleton's boys who raised their level of performance to secure a proud moment in the club's history in front of a sell-out crowd.

By Loughlan Campbell

A rapturous applause from 11,815 fans greeted the U's and Wycombe as they came out creating a sparkling atmosphere that screamed out for a historic United win.

After a couple of chances for Oxford's Danny Hylton the showers opened at the Kassam with a tropical like rainstorm attacking the pitch after half an hour.

Hylton then nearly grabbed the opener on 31 minutes from 12 yards turning his shot just wide after Kemar Roofe's ball into the box.

United remained solid at the back as Dunkley got a vital header to deny Gerry Thomp son from having a go in the box against U's keeper Benjy Buchel on 40 minutes with the scores then level at half time.

There was a panic as the second half started when Michael Herriman's free kick led to Buchel dropping the ball in his catching attempt and Dunkley having to clear after the ball was blocked near the line from Anthony Stewart's shot.

The defender was then on hand to cause huge celebrations in the Kassam on 54 minutes.

Maguire stepped up to whip a corner into the Wycombe box and the imperious defender climbed high to head across goal and beat Wanderers keeper Ryan Allsop.

Oxford were then handed their spot-kick after clever work from Hylton saw the ball clipped into the box and Roofe was brought to the ground on 71 minutes.

Maguire stepped up and superbly beat Allsop with a weighted finish to once again send the fans into raptures and effectively seal the win for Oxford.

Substitute O Dowda then stepped up in the first minute of added time to seal the win after winning the ball in the area before firing past Allsop.

Thousands celebrate United's return at city centre parade

THOUSANDS of Oxford United fans lined the city centre streets to cheer on their heroes as an open top bus parade celebrated the club's promotion to League One on Tuesday.

Last minute discussions between Oxford City Council, Oxfordshire County Council and the football club gave fans the chance to chant to their heart's content as the team bus coasted through the centre.

The parade moved along from Broad Street, through George Street, Worcester Street, New Road, Queen Street and on to St Aldate's.

Five thousand fans packed the streets to cheer the bus on before it came to a stop outside Oxford Town Hall in St Aldate's where the players headed inside to meet Lord Mayor of Oxford Rae Humberstone.

The parade followed Sunday's dramatic 3-0 win over Wycombe Wanderers at the Kassam Stadium on Saturday.

United fan Pete Allen, from Abingdon, said the parade was something he could not miss.

He said: "This is the biggest thing that has happened to our club in years. It was simply something I couldn't miss. It's been the best season I can remember."

Also celebrating the promotion was famous United fan DJ Kevlar, also from Abingdon.

The rapper became famous around the county after his United rap 'Come rap, come rhyme, come follow me, we're a Oxford United' we're going to Wembley' went viral in March ahead of United's Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final at Wembley.

The 39 year old said: "It's been a fantastic season. It's been 15 long years since we were in this division so I can't wait. Bring it on!"

More points the target for Renault in Russia

RENAULT will be seeking another points scoring finish in this Sunday's Spanish Grand Prix after breaking the duck last time out in Russia.

Kevin Magnussen came home seventh two weeks ago in Sochi to get the Enstone-based squad's first points on the board after capitalising on a chaotic first lap.

And Magnussen is hopeful of adding to his total on the Barcelona track which he knows well.

He said: "It's a good circuit and we've driven it so many times that everyone knows it very well.

"It's a perfect test track, but in anything it does have more high speed than low speed corners so you need a nicely balanced car and tyre wear can get a little bit tricky - you can't really run the softest tyres there."

Magnussen's team mate Jolyon Palmer will be looking to get in the points-scoring positions and better his current best of 11th at the season opener in Australia.

Palmer said: "We've made progress with the car and I'm happy with the balance and how it drives again.

"It's the first race in Europe at a track we all know really well, so I'm pretty pumped for a strong weekend."

Magnussen currently has 12th on six points in the drivers' championship with teammate Palmer lying further down the table on 11th, yet to score.

OXFORD United captain Jake Wright has declared his side's promotion to League One after Saturday's 3-0 drubbing of Wycombe Wanderers at the Kassam Stadium as "the best feeling in football".

Wright marshalled the U's defence expertly throughout the 90 minutes as the U's knocked away one of their rivals in a swift fashion to finish second in League Two behind Northampton Town in a dramatic final day.

Thousands of fans invaded the pitch following the referee's whistle, with the U's players caught up amongst the hysteria as 'we are going up' was chanted throughout the stands.

The captain said after the game: "This is the best feeling in modern football.

"It's also relief more than anything but we deserve to go up. All year we've played really well and have showed real bottle to win the last three games and keep three clean sheets. It's a great achievement for the club.

The U's needed to win to secure their place in the next division up and fans can now salivate at United facing the likes of their great rivals Swindon Town at the Kassam next season.

The 30 year old added: "We've got a real togetherness and a real team spirit with this set of players at the moment.

"I'm absolutely ecstatic for all of them and I just don't think it's quite sunk in just yet."

His teammate Kemar Roofe got swept up in the celebrations with the fans. He said the win was a season highlight for him.

He said: "I missed the celebrations inside but it was worth it. Today's been the highlight of my season.

"We were confident heading into the game and it feels great to have pulled it off."

The forward is set to be the subject of intense transfer speculation over the summer period but the 23 year old said he'll be staying clear of any talk of him moving on.

He added: "I've still got two years left on my contract and the club's going in the right direction which is a positive.

"I just need a rest. I'm going to go on holiday and turn my phone off."

THOUSANDS PARTY

FIVE thousand Oxford United fans celebrated with their heroes on Tuesday as an open top bus parade coasted around the city.

Famous United fan DJ Kevlar said of the event: "It's been a fantastic season. It's been 15 long years since we won in this division so I can't wait. Bring it on!"

HISTORY OF AMERSHAM & THAME

By Alice Williams

As a recent history graduate, I am always looking to find out more about our local area. I feel very lucky to work in two beautiful market towns with such a rich history. Aston Hearing has always endeavoured to respect the traditions of the area, and we hope that this will be reflected in our new Thame practice.

Amersham and Thame are both lively market towns with active communities. The oldest buildings in Amersham date back to the 15th Century, and in Thame the first recording of a market hall was in 1509, although it is likely that one existed hundreds of years earlier. Tuesday has been considered a market day in Thame since at least 1183. In respect of this old market tradition, we are starting a drop-in service on a Tuesday so that busy market goers can experience our services quickly and conveniently.

Buildings are important to Aston Hearing, as we want our clients to enjoy the beauty of the local area and to come to a far less clinical environment than they may be used to. Our Old Amersham office is set in an old brick and flint building in a courtyard behind the high street. The building was once part of Wheelers Brewery and has also been a factory that made cigarette papers. It was threatened with demolition in the 1980s, but luckily it was converted into the offices that Aston Hearing has occupied since 2004.

We were delighted to find another old building for our second office in the centre of Thame. The building was used for many years as a haberdashery, and needed some work before we could move in. Our renovation project was overseen by Director Kate Collet-Fenson's father, Mel Webster. Mel was mindful of the need to preserve the old building and to keep its rustic features, whilst preparing it to become a fully-equipped, modern hearing centre. During the renovation Mel unearthed an old range from behind a wall. This was carefully restored and re-painted, and is now a stand out feature in Reception. If you would like to see the range, you are very welcome to stop by for a coffee during our opening hours.

In respect of the Chiltern area's history of furniture-making, we decided to use local furniture throughout the building. We felt that local supplier Ercol, based in Princes Risborough, was the best option for furnishing the office. We wanted to support another local business whilst enjoying the very best quality, and are very pleased with the Danish style pieces now in Reception and the consulting rooms. We hope to have continued the trend from our Amersham premises of updating a historic building whilst keeping many of its original features.

Researching the history of the area is an ongoing project for me, and I would be delighted to learn more. If you would like to contribute to the history or find out more about Aston Hearing's renovation project please email alice@astonhearing.co.uk.

ASTON HEARING LEGACY

By Kate [illegible] and Dunc[illegible]
Collet-Fenson

As Directors of Aston Hearing, we are proud to be at a point where we can open our second premises, particularly in the beautiful location of Thame.

Aston Hearing was started by Kate's mother, Susan Webster, in 1989. After working in the NHS, Susan felt that she had more to offer as an audiologist and began to dispense hearing aids from her own practice in West Wycombe. Since then, the workforce has steadily grown. We now employ 11 members of staff across two offices, including five audiologists.

Our ethos is 'happy hearing'. This means working with our clients to achieve their best possible hearing ability, giving them as many appointments as they need and as much care and support as they would like. We strive to deliver a professional and thorough service, whilst being approachable, understanding and putting our clients at ease.

We always want our business to be an active member of the community, and are always looking to be involved in local events. We have supported local charities such as Hearing Dogs, and have put on events ourselves to raise money for Hearing Link, such as our very popular December Event last year where we arranged speakers on the subject of music and hearing loss. We are looking forward to continuing our community involvement with all the opportunities that Thame offers.

Looking forward, we would love to get to know as many Thame inhabitants as possible, and to continue to grow our business with the values that has helped us to reach this point. Thank you to everyone who has been so welcoming so far. We hope that this will be the start of many years of 'happy hearing' in Thame.

PUBLIC AWARENESS

Aston Hearing believe in spreading a positive message and helping the whole community to hear and listen more effectively. Members of the Aston Hearing Audiology team are available to speak or to give presentations, free of charge, at local events or for community groups.

Kate Collet-Fenson - "We can offer a whole range of information, tailored specifically to all different groups within the community including schools – where we can bring our 'Big Ear' along to demonstrate how we hear, or talk to community nurses on the importance of ear care and hearing aid management for elderly, right through to presentations to teenagers on the importance of noise management and protecting their ears for the future."

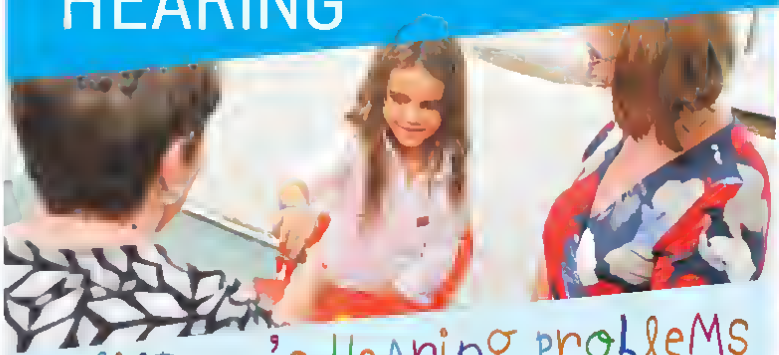
PROVIDING OVER 25 YEARS OF

Happy Hearing



Children's Hearing problems

Hearing is one of the vital ways in which we experience the world, and this is especially important for children. Listening skills can impact children's learning, particularly at crucial times such as when they are starting to speak or going to school.

Many parents have their children's eyesight tested regularly, but hearing tests can be neglected. A hearing problem can be hard to notice immediately, but signs may be behavioural difficulties, delayed speech, or trouble with reading or other school subjects. As hearing is so crucial to children's development it is important to detect any issues early and to begin to address them as soon as possible.

Aston Hearing offer hearing assessments in a child-friendly environment, making hearing tests as fun as possible for children. For parents, Aston Hearing provides a full report of their child's hearing that can be sent to other medical professionals if necessary, as well as offering any further support should the child need it.

To book a child assessment, please call 01844 396057 or email alice@astonhearing.co.uk

Is Ear Wax Hampering Your Hearing?

WAX LYRICAL

Astoo Hearing are bringing their safe, painless and convenient wax removal service to Thame

Ear wax is completely natural and helps the ear to clean itself. But for many people, especially hearing aid wearers, wax can become impacted in the ear canal, causing discomfort or hearing difficulties.

Aston Hearing's audiologists are trained in three methods of wax removal, meaning that in every situation they can choose the process that best suits the individual. Irrigation involves using water to gently flush the wax out of the ear canal, and microsuction involves using a small device to suction the wax. Audiologists use a microscope to take pictures of your ear before and after the procedure so you can have peace of mind that your wax has been completely removed.

Aston Hearing audiologists are some of the first to be trained in a new method of removing wax. Clearwax uses endoscopic wax removal, including a unique B-suction technique, which cleans the ear quickly and painlessly. Aston Hearing's audiologists have been trained by specialist ENT doctors in this method, so you can rest assured that you will receive the highest level of care.

Aston Hearing will be open for drop-in appointments every Tuesday morning, and every time the sign is outside at the top of the High Street, just before the Buttermarket. Emergency wax removals can usually be accommodated. To book a wax removal appointment please call 01844 396057 or email alice@astonhearing.co.uk.
